Greatest Remedy Known.

Dr King's new discovery for Consumption is certainly the greatest medical remedy ever placed within the reach of suffering humanity. Thousands of once hopeless sufferers, now loudly proclaim their praise for this wonderful discovery to which they owe their lives. Not only does it positively cure Consumption, but Coughs, Colds, Asthma, Bionchitis, Hay Fever, Hoarseness, and all affections of the Threat, Chest and Lungs yield at once to its wonderful curative powers as if by magic. We do not ask you to buy a large bottle until you know what you are getting. We therefore earnestly request that you call on your druggist, Hubbard & Swearingen, and get a bottle free of cost, which will convince the most skeptical of its wonderful merits, and show you what a regular one dollar size bottle will do. THE large Republican gains at the recent local elections in Connecticut establish the fact that that is no longer a Democratic state, nor even a doubtful state. Its six electoral votes are sure for Garfield and Arthur. The tidal wave is rolling through the east irresistibly. The "doubtful states" of New York and New Jersey are only waiting for their opportunity.

THE Democrate had a demonstration at Indianapolis on Tuesday, and though it turned out to be a small affair the procession was large enough to contain a confederate flag. The Republicans secured the flag and now have it on exhibition at the Journal office. To break the force of the matter the Democrats now claim that the Republicans "hired a man to carry the flag in the Democratic procession, so that they might make capital out of it." In his speech yesterday Senator Conkling referred to this Democratic claim, and in answer thereto made this crushing recark: "If that had been a Republican procession the man who carried the confederate flag would not be alive to-

New Hampshire Solid for Garfield.

The political situation in this State is full of promise to the friends of good government. Our advices from all parts of the State are hopeful. There are no defections. On the contrary, we hear of many changes to our side, whilst many who have been indifferent heretofore have buckled on their armor and are doing splendid service. There is perfect harmony. All minor questions are subordinated to the decermination to carry the State by a handsome majority for Clarfield and Arthur and Charles H. Bell. Let the good work continue, and a successful issue is assured.

THIS is Ben Butler's biography: 1877, a republican.

1878, a labor-reformer. 1879, a greenbacker.

1880, a democrat.

1881, a political reminiscence.

THE Indianapolis Journal of Wed needay is credited with Mr. Landers' speech of the preceding day: "The business man who says he is in favor of the present policy being continued, is either as ignorant as a mule or corrupt as Satan." And then the Journal wants to know what the leading merchants of Indianapolis think of Mr. Landers. What they and all the voters of Indiana think will be shown after the vote of next Tuesday is counted.

DECATUR, Oct. 9, 1880.

WHAT are the Northern Democrats doing in this campaign? Defending and excusing the Solid South as usual. At all the great Democratic meetings in the North, the principal orators are Confederates. The Northern Democrats are, as they always were, the excusers and tools of the south. The brains are in the South, as they always were. The one great Democratic leader in the North now is John Kelly. If Hancock is elected John Kelly and the Solid South will elect him, and John Kelly and the Solid South will "run" him. Nobody supposes that Mr. Kelly would be given a personal voice in the Admin-istration—the bossing of New-York is the height of his ambition-but he would name the Northern Democrats who would have a voice, and the Solid South would have no trouble in running them and Hancock together.

No man who is so constantly under the influence of strong drink as W. S. Hancock, can properly discharge the duties, or becomingly wear the dignity of the first office in the gift of the American people. If the president is to be more than a figure-head, he ought to be in the main, a sober man. Gen. Hancock, at his best, will have little power to manage the impetuous party of ex-confederates and hungry politician's who have choses hun as their "mask." His naturally moderate shill ities being weakened by alcoholic induigence, what will become of the nation should be become president?-Carliels (Pa) Herald.

The republicans of Connecticut feel good over the prospect in that state. They have made a net gain of twentyeight towns over the election of 1878, and of nineteen over that of 1879. Returns from all but five towns in the state are as fellows: Eighty nine are republican, fifty-six democratic and fifthen are divided. The republicans gain control in twenty-six towns in the town officers, and the democrats suffer a loss in twenty-nine towns. In 1876 the in the end, by peaceable and satisfactowns were eighty-five democratic, sixty nine republican and eleven divided. Four of the five towns to hear from were republican in 1876. The result is a complte turn over in favor of the republicans as compared with the last presidential year, and every way encouraging for republican success in Connecticut in November. The republicans were never better organized or more hopeful. The business is telling strongly in their favor in manufacturing districts.

The Business Aspect of the Canvass.

From the New York Daily Graphic. The business men of the country apcear to be awakening to the importance of the present presidential campaign to The election of a democratic president trust for months. The country would be on the anxious seat for the four months intervening between the election n November and the inauguration of March. Refore acting capitalists would has said about me, and which has been want to know what kind of a cabinet given to the public through the medihe proposed to select. If the cabinet was unsatisfactory, this doubt and hesitation would be intensified. And even if the treasury was placed in thoroughly competent and satisfactory hands and the other cabinet portfolios be satisfactorily filled, there would still be doubt until the policy of the new congress was known.

It cannot be denied that the country is now presperous. Every one admits that. Granting that this prosperity has nothing to do with politics and that the party in power should not be thanked for its existence, it might yet be that a change of parties would disturb the conditions under which our present remarkable prosperity exists. Capital is timid. It has been well said that nothing is so cowardly as one million but two millions. The more money there is ready to be risked in productive industry the less likely is it to be risked unless even in the estimation of doubting capitalists the conditions are all favorable for the increase and preservation of the investments. Is it worth the candle that, merely for a change, we should risk the continued existence of business prosperity? Leaving out of sight all other questions at issue in the canvass, this consideration would seem to be decisive. Change might, at least, be plausibly advocated if we were in the dumps and business was depressed. But when the very reverse is true, on what ground can change be advocated, except, as Secretary Evarts said, because we are savage redskins to whom peace and quietness are irksome, and we must have a change at any cost? We mistake the character of the American people if they will not hesitate before making a change merely for "the fun of the thing," and with a strong probabilty that the change will be injurious.

Sectionalism a Patriotic Duty.

If "the south," by which is meant the democratic party of the southern states, has no purpose, why does it violently suppress the republican vote in order to make itself "solid," and give 138 electoral votes to the democratic candidate? It has a purpose. It is not the restoration of slavery, nor payment of the rebel debt, but it is its old purpose of control of the government for the benefit of southern interests; and should it obtain complete control both of the executive and legislative departments, it will do whatever is necessary to secure the continuance of that control. Now the objection is not that it seeks this mastery, although its success would be a great disaster, but that it seeks it by fraud and violence; and not only is it not offensively sectional or bloody minded to say so and to reiterate the truth, but itlis a primary patriotic duty, as it was to expose the Garoelon villiany.

Sighing for a Rebel Victory.

Meridian (Miss.) Mercury. Dem.

If it had so happened that the Confederates had occupied Washington and taken possession of all the public buildings, and Pennsylvania had been a Confederate State (in which case we fancy, General Hancock, like General Lee, would have resigned and offered his sd, we apprehend the world would not have come to an end, nor American libcalamity might have befall the Union loving people of the North, and may yet. The Confederate constitution was in the main a re-enactment of the Federal constitution of '79, reasserting all the great principles of that instrument. The Union as it was would have been been co instanti re-established. The have been kindly invited to return to the fold in peace, though their right to stay out in peace and unmolested would have been recognized. The distinctive difference between what has been and what might have been is, there would have been no forcible reconstruction with all the attending diabolism that has been and is known of all men to the disgrace of the Nation. Slavery would have remained in the constitution, as it had been in its birth, to have been abolished, as it would have been tory methods, any not through "blood and tears and wars innumerable."

Hancock says: "After the failing of the campaign, I was detained in Washington one month by Secretary Stanton, with a view of placing me in command of the Army of the Potomac but I did not want it, and would not accept it.

Gen. Hancock's aids are Captain Wharton and General Mitchell, who were with Hancock at the battle of Gettysburg. These are regarded as the 'military family" of Gen. Hancock, one member of which family is understood to be the person who wrote the letter which appeared this morning in the Chicago Tribune. General Mitchell was not at headquarters when the reporter called, but Captain Wardon and Captain Ward expressed much indignation and said they did not belive any such letter had ever heen written. The following is the letter in the

The Tribune has been permitted to copy the following extract from a private letter written to a friend in -Iowa, by an army officer in Gen. Hancock's department, who, for many years past, has been near to the person and confidence of Gen. Hancock. We give the text verbatim, as it evinces the writer's affection for his commanding general, and bears the marks of truth and sincerity. It says: "GOVERNOR'S ISLAND, NEW YORK, Sept, 28:—General Hancock, the dear old man, is just now on the verge of desperation, and knows not which way to turn or what to do. The glitter of the Presidency has turned his head and the continued heat and turmoil of the campaign, with the difference between Northern and Southern Democrats (so strongly marked to equalize and adjust, -I fear will drive him stark mad. II ____, my dear boy, Hancock is no more fit for the Presidency than a withered hemlock. I will be frank with you,-it is true. He knows nothing of the South except the few polished and crafty leaders that call upon him here, and his brief acquaintance he had with the same class of men in 1867 at New Orleans. He means well enough, God bless hun, but he cannot comprehend the crookedness of politics and those bred-in the bone politicians,

"And now, while on the subject, I will give you the secret of this Hancock move, and it is this: That Indiana disunionist, William H. English, is to be the real President.

"Hancock is not expected to live out a fraction of his term, and that expect tation is founded on facts. Any digression from his regular habits is liable to bring on an apoplectic stroke. Strong symptoms have twice exhibited themselves since his nomination, and it is the verdict of all around him that his promotion to the presidency will terminate his earthly career. But this fact has been carefully guarded for reasons you can readily discern. "And now, dear boy, you have the inside of this Presidential business. With English as President, you can Ron. J. G. Cannon and others. readily comprehend what these shrewd tellows of the South can accomplish.

The above reads like a family letter sword to his native State); Baltimore Indeed, it comes from a member of last night Mr. Pierrpont lightly touched upon a question which may, before long, take the foremest place in politics. He warned the "millionaires, rich men, respectable conservatives of New York" that it only needed "a resolute leader of the populace, with courage in his heart and brains under his hat," to make them very uncomfortable. He added: "We are prosperous just He added: "We are prosperous just now, and all is quiet-it will not be so always—and then you will want a Government such as you will not find if you shirk political duties." A Model H. & L. Truck In the grand reunion street parade on Thurs day appeared the entire apparatus of the Decatur Fire Department, each truck and cart being handsomely decorated; but one of the more noticeable features of this part of the procession was a magnificent hook and ladder truck, which was put up and finished at Wayne Bros. "Keystone Carriage Works," this city, for the city of Sullivan, at a cost of about $500. This truck is made of the very best material, and in many respects is an improvement on the one used by the Decatur Hook & Ladder Company. It has six ladders of various lengths, 22 rubber buckets, and all other necessary attachments complete. The workmanship throughout is of a superior character, and This truck will be sent to Sullivan at once and put into service. It is a perfect model of beauty, and we congratulate the Sullivan firemen on securing such a handsome and seviceable truck-one that will stand rough usage and look well at all times.

The above is but a sample of the fine work turned out continually by the Wayne Bros., who are justly entitled to mech credit for their business snap, and for turning out nothing but first-class work. They have superior facilities for filling all classes of orders in their line, and we are pleased to note the fact that their skill is being recognized abroad. In this connection it is proper to state that at our late county fair, and also at the state fair, the Wayne Bros. were awarded the first premium for a fine "phacton" put up at their works.

Attention, Buttallion! At Camp Sheridan, October 7th, 1880, an ass ciation of the survivors of the 116th Reg. III. Vol. was formed by the election of the follow

Secretary-N. M. Baker. Treasurer-Wm. Grayson. A business meeting will soon be called by the 'president, in which all interested are earnestly invited to attend.

Comrades, our number is diminishing every year. Let those of us who remain associate ourselves together that we may renew old friendships, fight our battles over to occasional reunions, and keep the memory green of those who have passed away.

Charley Collins and "Reward." The third presentation of the thrilling and brilliant military drama, "Reward; or the German Volunteer," was given at the opera house last night to a fair audience. The play, which brings to mind the exciting seenes and experiences of the late war, is full of thrilling inco dents that rivet the attention of the audience to the fall of the curtain. "Heward" is given under the auspices of the Decatur Grandiers, and the characters are presented by Charlie teurs and 20 young ladies, who appear in five grand allegorical tableaux. Charlie Collins, by his funny sayings, acts and German songs, keeps the audience in royal good humor in which he is aided largely by Fred Jones, who personates the negro character of "Jimmy Johnson." Through the work done by State Secretary I. E. Brown and members of your committee, much 183 been done towards securing funds for the prosecution of our work the remainder of this and all of next year. By a vigorous prosecution of the plan already inaugurated, we may confi dently expect to have sufficient funds pledged to carry the work forward until Jan 1, 1882, before the close of this year We need to systematize our work more and to enlist a larger number of consecra ted workers. Each number of the association should feel that he is personally esponsible for some nart of the work in which we are engaged.
